Water of Life

John 4

Jesus tells the woman at the well that He had water to give that she would never thirst again. Does the Old Testament talk about water in this way?

Isaiah says that with the Messiah, “the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea” (11:9). He also makes a connection between water and salvation; “Therefore with joy you will draw water from the wells of salvation” (12:3). When the Messiah comes, along with miracles of healing will come waters bursting “forth in the wilderness, and streams in the desert” (35:6). In the same statement, God says that He will pour water on him who is thirsty and pour His Spirit on the descendants of Israel and bless them (44:3). He sends an invitation to the water for all who are thirsty, and they will receive the mercies of David (55:1–3). “The Lord will guide you continually in drought, and strengthen your bones; you shall be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail” (58:11).

Perhaps, this refers to actual water in times of physical drought, but this concept seems to be spiritualized in places like Jeremiah 2:13: “For My people have committed two evils: they have forsaken Me, the fountain of living waters, and hewn themselves cisterns—broken cisterns that can hold no water” (also 7:13). It is impossible to provide a literal interpretation to the water “flowing from under the threshold of the temple... When it reaches the sea, its waters are healed... everything will live wherever the river goes” (47:1–9). And finally, “And in that day it shall be—that living waters shall flow from Jerusalem... And the Lord shall be King over all the earth” (Zechariah 14:8).

How might we summarize all these passages? The presence of God seems to be the life-giving waters that provide healing and salvation to those that thirst and repent. When the Messiah came, He would make this water accessible to the entire world beginning at Jerusalem. “If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink. He who believes in Me, as the Scripture has said, out of his heart will flow rivers of living water.’ But this He spoke concerning the Spirit, whom those believing in Him would receive; for the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified” (John 7:37–39). “Therefore being exalted to the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, He poured out this which you now see and hear” (Acts 2:33). “Repent, and let every one of you be baptized... and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit” (2:38).

Thoughts and Prayers

We have no members currently in the hospital.

Chad Beard saw his surgeon today and the testing went well. His recovery will still take some time, but he is doing better.

Beau Carter spent a couple days in the hospital but is now home, he will possibly have a procedure on November the 23rd.

Let's remember all our shut-ins, those recovering from recent procedures and those that will have upcoming procedures.

6 As you therefore have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in Him, 7 rooted and built up in Him and established in the faith, as you have been taught, abounding in it with thanksgiving.
